

Puentes de Salud Art and Culture
Art and Culture Program Coordinator

Description

We seek a highly motivated student in the fields of art, education, and/or human development to coordinate our art and culture program. The coordinator will work with the artist, volunteers, children, adolescents, and families. The Coordinator will engage with issues of education and equality in a community-based, multilingual, and transnational context, preparing them as a future leader.

Art and Culture at Puentes de Salud

Art contributes to the holistic mission of Puentes de Salud by promoting healing through expression and storytelling. Puentes de Salud serves the robust and rapidly growing Latino, specifically Mexican, immigrant community of South Philadelphia and enhances community health and wellness through an integrated approach to health, education, and empowerment. The Art and Culture program aims to empower and revitalize the Mexican community through the artistic exploration of immigration and social justice in the United States and Mexico. Participants learn to use different materials and techniques, including fabric, paper, drawing, painting, pasting, printing, beadwork, stitching, weaving, poetry, and song writing.

Eligibility & Requirements

This internship is available to an undergraduate or graduate student with significant relevant experience and qualifications. We are seeking a highly motivated, independent person with excellent interpersonal skills that is passionate about supporting the education, health, and wellness of Latino children. Intermediate level of Spanish is preferred but not required. Note this is an unpaid volunteer role. Hours: Wednesdays 4:30pm-8pm with more hours possible if required by sending department or desired by student.

Application

Applicants must submit a copy of a CV or resume along with a brief statement of interest that explains why they would like to work with the Art and Culture program in a leadership capacity. Students fulfill a placement, independent study, hours, or fulfilling any requirements must submit appropriate documentation. Please submit your application materials via email to Nora Litz at art@puentesdesalud.org
